Intelligent Creative is a key driver of marketing performance.

Data-driven approach uncovers insights that inspire and inform creativity

- Marketers are navigating a changing economy and continuing pressures from privacy regulations and cookie deprecation, significantly impacting their ability to drive results.
- Creative data is a powerful lever for marketers, with creative performance impacting up to 70% of digital media effectiveness.
- Marketers are challenged with the sheer volume of assets needed to support media campaigns with creative that works across channels and formats.
- In a time where every dollar spent is measured against return on investment, marketers need to demonstrate impact of creative effectiveness and efficiencies.

Creatives

- + Advances in AI / machine learning technology is giving rise to intelligent creative, creative that is infused with data.
- + Platforms benefit from intelligent creative to help them measure creative performance against best practices.
- + Marketers need to infuse data into creative decision-making process to drive campaign effectiveness, compensate for signal loss.
- + Agencies need to scale their creative ideas across digital platforms and increase the impact of their creative assets.
- + The creator economy is looking for ways to connect their creative skills with brands that benefit from their work.

Data-infused creative is the next frontier to drive results.

Creative is responsible for 70% of performance

- + The ad tech industry has mostly focused on the levers that impact 30% of potential performance (e.g. targeting).
- + By focusing on the creative lever, clients can benefit from 2-5x improvements in their KPIs.

Insights can only impact business results if they're acted upon.

- + Clear leader in emerging data & technology field.
- + Marrying of data and creativity creates limitless insights to inform creative decisions – faster, smarter to drive performance over time.
- + Integrations with all major media platforms.
- + Agile, data-driven creative process that supports business outcomes of effectiveness and efficiencies.
- + Intelligent Creative has become one of a kind for creative, supporting a function long “left behind” by data and tech.
- + Greater than 75% improvement in lift when creative data applied.

The NFL wins big with VidMob.

CHALLENGE

The NFL was interested in driving the performance of their ads with real-time learning and optimizing. The team had discussed trying to build this process on their own but didn't have the time or internal manpower to manage efficiently with their third-party creative agency.

SOLUTION

During the 2020-21 season, VidMob began providing creative analytics and the NFL's creative agency made ads based on the data and insights. At the end of 2020, the NFL determined that leveraging the VidMob Creative Network to make the data-informed creative with heroes, versions and optimizations would allow them to be much more agile, faster and efficient.

OPTIMIZATION

VidMob leads both learning and creating for many of their league and club (team) initiatives in '21-'22 season (6 accounts). We do some form of work for them across 15 clubs.

RESULTS

- ▲ +107% Click Through Rate
- ▲ +262% Engagement Rate
- ▲ +424% Video Completion Rate
- ▲ +40% Improved Cost Per View

VidMob is the OS for Creative Operations, offering 1 SaaS creative intelligence platform fueled by proprietary VidMob data which provides actionable insights for digital marketing creative, 2 a managed marketplace to immediately act on those insights and an award-winning 3 workflow to simplify the whole process.
