A black and white photograph of a woman in a vintage office setting, likely a stock exchange. She is wearing a dark, high-collared dress and has short, curly hair. She is looking down and to the left, with her hand near a desk or counter. In the background, another person is visible, also working. The overall atmosphere is professional and historical.

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a dark blue blazer over a white shirt and dark blue pants, stands with her arms crossed against a textured blue wall. Her shadow is cast on the wall to her right, showing a superhero figure with a cape. The floor is made of large, light-colored tiles.
